

Home Pak B, Home Pak Plus B or Home Pak II (Ontario) converts to a Homeowners Broad policy

If you previously had a Home Pak B, Home Pak Plus B or Home Pak II (ON) policy, you'll switch to a Homeowners Broad policy when your policy renews. A Broad form provides comprehensive coverage for dwellings (homes) and detached private structures (garages, sheds, etc.), but the coverage is limited to named perils for personal property (contents). Each category below provides details on the differences between your old and new policy.

Changes related to named perils

A "peril" is a situation that results in property damage.

Changes related to base policy wordings

Wording change	Explanation of change	Impact to coverage
Coverage A – Dwelling Building (the house)
Materials and supplies used for construction, alteration or repair are included when they're adjacent to the premises.	Previously, coverage was provided for items on the premises, or being transported to the premises.	Increase
Under Outdoor Trees, Shrubs, Plants and Lawns, artificial lawns are now subject to a $1,000 limit.	Previously, artificial lawns were not limited to $1,000.	Decrease
Coverage B – Detached Private Structures (garages, sheds, gazebos, etc.)
We include up to 5% of the dwelling limit (5% of Coverage A) for detached private structures originally built or previously used for any building or farming purposes.	SK: This replaces the old $2,500 limit for garden sheds and gazebos on a farm.  BC, AB, MB, ON: This is a new coverage in these provinces.	Increase
In BC, detached private structures used to house horses are no longer	This exemption has been removed.	Decrease exempt from business and farming use coverage restrictions.

Coverage C – Personal Property (your belongings like furniture, appliances, clothing, etc.)
Belongings of guests and residence employees are now included under the Personal Property limit (Coverage C).	Previously, these were limited to 10% of the Personal Property limit (10% of Coverage C).	Increase
We no longer automatically include coverage for belongings in storage at an occupied private residence.	These items must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
We no longer automatically include coverage for belongings in storage away from your premises for up to 30 consecutive days, unless those items are kept in a commercial storage facility or a safety deposit box.	Items not stored in a commercial storage facility, or in safety deposit box, must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
We will no longer automatically provide coverage for skid steers less than 31 horsepower.	All skid steers must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
