

Mobile Home Pak A or Mobile Home Pak I converts to a Mobile Homeowners Standard policy (SK, AB only)

If you previously had a Mobile Home Pak A or Mobile Home Pak I policy, you'll switch to a Mobile Homeowners Standard policy when your policy renews. A Standard form provides named perils coverage only for the dwelling (home), detached private structures (garage, shed, etc.), and personal property (contents within). A peril is a situation that results in property damage, like a fire or hailstorm. "Named perils" means you have coverage only for the perils listed on your policy.

Changes related to perils

A peril is a situation that results in property damage.

Changes related to base policy wordings

Wording change	Explanation of change	Impact to coverage
Coverage A – Dwelling Building
We have updated our wordings under Dwelling Building (Coverage A), to include furniture and equipment forming a permanent part of the building, permanently attached carports or garages, awnings, skirting, porches and tie down equipment.	While these were previously covered, they were not specifically listed in the wordings.	Neutral
Materials and supplies used for construction, alteration or repair are included when they're adjacent to the premises.	Previously, coverage was provided for items on the premises, or being transported to the premises.	Increase
Emergency Removal Expense (coverage to remove the building to protect it should it be endangered by an insured peril) is now limited to 5% of the value of the Dwelling Building (Coverage A).  However, a policy deductible no longer applies.	Previously, coverage was not subject to a 5% limit and a policy deductible was applied.	Decrease (on the 5% limit)  Increase (on the policy deductible)
Under Outdoor Trees, Shrubs, Plants and Lawns, artificial lawns are now subject to a $1,000 limit.	Previously, artificial lawns were not limited to $1,000.	Decrease
Coverage B – Detached Private Structures

We include up to 5% of the dwelling limit (5% of Coverage A) for detached private structures originally built or previously used for any building or farming purposes.	SK: This replaces the old $2,500 limit for garden sheds and gazebos on a farm.  AB: This is a new coverage.	Increase
Coverage C – Personal Property
Belongings of guests and residence employees are now included under the Personal Property limit (Coverage C).	Previously, these were limited to 10% of the Personal Property limit (10% of Coverage C).	Increase
We no longer automatically include coverage for belongings in storage at an occupied private residence.	These items must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
We no longer automatically include coverage for belongings in storage away from your premises for up to 30 consecutive days, unless those items are kept in a commercial storage facility or a safety deposit box.	Items not stored in a commercial storage facility or in a safety deposit box, must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
We will no longer automatically provide coverage for skid steers less than 31 horsepower.	All skid steers must now be scheduled onto the policy (at an additional cost) in order to receive coverage.	Decrease
Change of Temperature coverage is now restricted to the dwelling (house).	Previously this coverage applied to dwellings (houses) and detached private structures (garages, sheds, etc.).	Decrease
Special Limits of Insurance
